Pats return to ovation

MONROEVILLE — The Heritage Patriots returned home in triumph and tears Sunday afternoon following their victory at the girls state basketball tournament at Market Square Arena.

The newly-crowned state champions arrived at mid-day following their three-hour bus trip from Indianapolis — the scene of their 52-45 victory over Valparaiso Saturday night.

Holding the championship plaque, head coach Cheri Gilbert led players and team officials into a jammed-packed, banner-lined gymnasium and a standing ovation.

Each of the 12 players proudly wore the championship medal around their necks.

Each of the players, including junior standout guard Jody Beerman, who scored 53 points in the two victories, were introduced to the crowd of about 4,000, which applauded steadily. All the young women relayed some of their memories of their memorable two-day stay in Indianapolis.

Head coach Cheri Gilbert, who took Heritage to the state tournament in 1978 only to lose to Warsaw in the opening game, opened the hour-long pep session by calling everyone's attention to her pink outfit. "I hope you noticed that I'm wearing something other than my blue suit," she joked.

"This is a very special group of young women," she went on more seriously. "They kept believing in themselves all season long. They never quit on themselves."

"At state, the kids played to win and not to lose," said Gilbert. "They wanted to bring the championship home."

Gilbert praised her entire squad, calling the reserves — "the number two team in the state."

Guard Rita Boyle, one of five seniors on the Patriots, was called the "key to the team." Boyle scored 11 points in the title game despite a painful neck injury.

"She couldn't even look up to the scoreboard to see check the score or the time," said Gilbert. "We had to call it out to her. I felt she was the key to the game."
